Personnel Report

The Board of Education approved the hiring of Juliana Vissering as the principal of Chippewa Middle School.

Vissering has served as the assistant principal for the last four years.

“I am so excited to lead Chippewa Middle School this school year,” said Vissering. “I extended my sincere gratitude to Dr. Hertel, members of the interview committee and the Board of Education for giving me this opportunity. I respect this learning community and look forward to collaborating with staff and families this fall.”

Prior to her arrival to District 62, Vissering was a math teacher in Evanston School District 65 for nearly a decade. While there, she became a National Board Certified teacher in 2012. Prior to her time in Evanston, Vissering worked in Chicago Public Schools and taught overseas in Mali, Africa.

“Mrs. Vissering has contributed a great deal during her time as assistant principal here at Chippewa,” said Superintendent of Schools Dr. Paul E. Hertel. “She genuinely cares for children and is eager to support families through a variety of ways. Mrs. Vissering is a thoughtful educator who understands the roles we play in the lives of children.”

“I am honored to be continuing to work with the amazing staff, students and families at Chippewa in this new role,” said Vissering. “I am excited to build on the work our school has already done and to keep moving forward to make Chippewa an incredible place to work, learn, and grow.”

Communications

Board of Education

Member Garrett congratulated Principal Krueger on her first day of school at Iroquois Community School. Member Weller congratulated Juliana Vissering on her appointment as Principal of Chippewa Middle School. Member Duckmann acknowledged everyone who addressed the Board of Education that evening. The administration will continue to work very hard to develop procedures for the upcoming school year, knowing that Iroquois is already in session. The Board of Education seeks the community’s patience as they work very hard to do what is in the best interest of students.

Superintendent Report

Superintendent Dr. Paul Hertel invited Assistant Superintendent for Business Services Mark Bertolozzi to provide an update regarding construction projects in the district. Summer work includes replacing the roof at North Elementary School which was a bit delayed due to the weather. Paving work continues at Central Elementary. In addition, the district is moving forward with negotiations related to the installation of a spotlight at North Elementary School.
